Message from Mrs Maycock

We have had another busy week in school!

Yesterday, we had a 'Dance Day' where the children had the opportunity to learn some Bollywood Dances outside on the playground. They all appeared to be having a fabulous time.

I would like to say Well Done to our school council. They have organised outside meetings and already taken on the 'Plastics Challenge' as well as establishing a butterfly garden. Our Year 6 representatives have produced a video using PowerPoint to tell everyone what is happening and what they can do to help. This will enable our Pupil Voice to be heard, despite being unable to meet and go into other classes. Thank you to Miss Willsmer for supporting them and helping them to get it organised.

Have a lovely weekend; hopefully, the weather will allow for you to meet up with family and friends outside in the garden. We will see you all on Tuesday.

Kind Regards

Liz Maycock

Our Awards Assembly Prayer

Dear God

As we come together to celebrate others' awards, please help us to be encouraging, to be proud of others and to show our Christian values. Help us to aim for the highest and to use our talents well. Thank you for everyone who helps us to learn. Amen.

Prayer Corner

This week's value is wisdom.

Dear God,

Help us to make wise choices, when we are working in classes, when we are playing with our friends and when we are living in our homes.

Amen

*If any of you lacks wisdom, he should ask God, who gives generously to all without finding fault, and it will be given to him. James 1:5

This Week's Big Question Should you be satisfied with what you have?

Willow

You should be satisfied with what you have because you might not get it again. - Olivia

As long as you have a place to live and food to survive, you should be satisfied with what you have. - Oliver

There are others in the world that have nothing so compared to them, we couldn't be richer. - Zach

I think you should because there are children who don't have an education or a home. We should be thankful to God because we are very lucky. - Hannah

Yes, we should be thankful for everything we have because some people don't have these things. - Ruben

Maple B

Yes because some people have nothing – Dolly-Blu

Yes because we should be happy and be grateful for what you have - Leo

Yes because we have everything we need – Ava

Yes because I have a good life and I have my friends and family - Liam

Yes because whatever we have we should be grateful – Freddie

Yes because some people don't have all the things that we have so we should be grateful – Kelsey

Maple E

Yes, we should be grateful and happy with everything we have got – Lewis

Yes because it doesn't matter what you have, you should feel grateful – Sonny

Yes because it is better than not having anything – Harrison

Yes because our parents work so hard to get us things we shouldn't want or ask for more – Liam

Yes because we shouldn't be greedy – Lucia

We should feel happy with what we have got - Aryan

Sycamore

We should be satisfied with what we have because some people have a lot less than we do.

Amber HS

Yes, because even if we don't get the stuff we think we want, we have food and shelter and families Finleigh P

It doesn't matter what you have as long as you are happy- Harry N

Chestnut

You should be satisfied with what you have as we already has lots! - Rebekah

Yes because God tells us not be greedy. - Digby

You should be satisfied with what you have and remember to think of others. - Emily

In art, we have been sketching pictures of Prince Philip to remember him and all the different things he had done for our country. We have also been looking at Monet in art and have created our own version of his famous bridge painting. In Geography, we have been looking at maps, symbols and grid references- we are all confident in reading four figure and six figure grid references and started to draw our own maps yesterday.

We have been learning a lot about Salvation in RE. We enjoyed doing hot seats of the key people in the Easter story, the rest of the class had to ask us different questions to find out who may have been to blame. This week we made a glossary booklet of all the different key words we have learnt.

In maths, we have learnt many new skills including: area of rectangles and triangles, volume and we had a challenge to build and then draw 3D shapes!
See you next time!

Dear Mum & Dad,

I'm sure you don't particularly care about most of the stuff that I'm writing in this letter, but it's quite important that you know. Before you read on you need to promise something, you can't let Mum and Dad know about this!

fronted
adverbial

Recently, I have been experiencing some not-very good feelings. Such as: loneliness, neglect and rejection. I'm finding it really hard to keep myself entertained and it's probably best if I'm not even there. I might be making a massive deal over nothing but that's how I really feel. Also, every time I'd ask a member of the family to play with me but no one seems to even acknowledge my existence.

To stop that from bothering me, I could do something different that could keep me entertained. It's a lot harder than you think since I've tried most methods and none have seemed to be a success. So I have made the decision to go on a journey...

What I'm about to write might be a bit risky and I'm not entirely sure you won't care. I'm not entirely sure where I'm going or how I'll get there. But don't be worried! I've been thinking of a route to go on. I truly promise that it'll be safe and causing of my surroundings. I'm not convinced that you will even still be reading, since one of your friends probably called you or something.

I'm not going to lie, you should feel guilty. I hope that me going for a while, will make the family & everyone think and reflect on your actions. So when I return, we will be a happy family again.

Lots of love,
Katie

Dear Mum, dad and Jenny,
I am leaving. I know this will confuse you, but please continue reading. I feel lost and ignored and by the time you read this I will be gone. I'm sorry, but you had the chance to fix this and you did not.

Expanded noun phrase

Recently, I have felt neglected, glum and deary. I talk to you and I get ignored. Dad, you are always on the computer. Mum, you are always cooking and talking on the phone and Jenny, I thought I could get to you for anything, but nowadays the things that you are occupied with is video games.

Journey

Due to this, I've attempted some diversions, including: helping mum with cooking (but you tell me to go), reading books from the library, going to the library and knitting. None of these things fulfil the piece that I'm missing. So I'm going to satisfy myself with a journey. I'm being pulled on this journey so I am going to grab it before it moves on and I stay here driving myself crazy.

Parenthesis

I'm not ^{sure} where I'll be going I am sure I will be dragged all around the world but that is what I want. I may be a few days, months, years?! It's unknown, you will not need to worry about me even if that had crossed your mind as now I have learnt how to be independent and self-sufficient.

Please remember that I do love you but when I'm gone maybe it will give you the chance to realise I'm your daughter - no, not Jenny - Lucy, ME. See you when I am back.
